

TITLE ONE SUGGESTED READING WEBSITES

<http://www.guysread.com/> This website is a classic and often recommended for boys. It has an extensive list of books that appeal to boy readers, young and old. The author, Jon Sc is an author and a former teacher.

<http://www.storylineonline.net/> One teacher I knows encourages her students to “read like a movie star.” Here is a chance to listen to movie stars read a few classic picture books such as Stellaluna.

<http://www.bookadventure.org/> This website is sponsored by Sylvan Learning Centers. It has a quiz program/incentive similar to Accelerated Reading. Kids can read a book, take a quiz, and earn points toward a prize. Great for motivating summer reading!

<http://www.freerice.com/index.php> Freerice.com. This website provides practice for Vocabulary, Grammar, Math, and other subjects in a multiple choice quiz format. For each correct answer, FreeRice.com donates 10 grains of rice to the U.N. World Food Program. The website says they have donated 61,701,112,240 grains of rice since 2007. Be careful! This website can be addictive. It is fun for 3rd grade and up or to play with your younger children.

<http://www.starfall.com/> Best for 1st and 2nd grade readers. This website has online books including: phonics, fiction, nonfiction. Games and activities too!

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/misunderstoodminds/readingstrats.html#suggestions>
This PBS websites is a great resource for parents’ of children struggling with the reading process. Click on the suggestions link for general ideas to help your child in reading or the strategies link which includes: decoding, comprehension, retention, and production.